- Eyes: falcon-sharp | sun-bright | cold with old purpose
- Build: rangy and swift | hard-muscled | wiry as a bowstring
- Clothing: desert leathers | lacquered scale and silk | travel-worn hunting gear
- Signature: ritual tattoos | feathered charms | a spear never far from reach

BACKGROUND

Pick one.

BORDER SCOUT

You know how to read hostile ground. When you scout ahead through wilderness, ruins, or monster-held territory, ask one extra question after Discern Realities.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you first proved you could keep up with me on the trail?
- Which of you ignores the warnings I leave behind?
- Which of you did I once guide through a place no sane traveler entered?
- Which of you have I already seen making too much noise?

SISTER OF THE SIGHTLESS EYE

You were trained in discipline, doctrine, and killing demons before they can reach the innocent. When you stand firm against fear or corruption, take advantage.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you doubts my order but trusts my aim?
- Which of you carries a secret my sisters would judge harshly?
- Which of you has seen me refuse comfort for duty?
- Which of you have I sworn to see safely through this darkness?

JAVELIN CHAMPION

Your prowess is famous among your people. When you hurl a spear or javelin at medium range, it gains thrown, near, and piercing.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you watched me win a contest of arms?
- Which of you thinks I rely too much on skill and not enough on caution?
- Which of you carries one of my broken practice scars?
- Which of you did I spare when I could have humiliated you?

MONSTER TROPHY-TAKER

You have learned what every creature leaves behind. When you take time to carve, gather, or appraise monster remains, ask the GM what part is useful and valuable here.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you cannot stand the work I do after a kill?
- Which of you wants something from a beast I swore to claim first?
- Which of you wears or carries a trophy I gave you?
- Which of you saw me smile at the wrong kind of hunt?

STARTING MOVES

RAIN OF SPEARS

When you unleash a sudden volley against clustered foes, roll +DEX. On a 10+, choose 2. On a 7-9, choose 1.

- You hit exactly what you meant to hit.
- You force them to scatter or dive for cover.
- You keep enough distance to stay clear of immediate reprisal.

EVASIVE FOOTWORK

When you keep moving through danger instead of standing still, take +1 armor.

HUNTER'S MARK

When you study a creature's movement, spoor, or stance, ask the GM one: what is it about to do, what weakness does it show, or where can I drive it?

VAULT AND RECOVER

When you leap, tumble, or scramble out of a monster's reach, roll +DEX. On a 10+, you land where you want and may take +1 forward. On a 7-9, you escape but leave yourself exposed, separated, or off-balance.

COLD DISCIPLINE

When you refuse panic, temptation, or a demonic whisper, roll +WIS. On a 10+, hold steady and mark XP. On a 7-9, you hold steady, but the GM will tell you what it cost.

SPEAR IN THE DARK

When you strike first from ambush, concealment, or superior position, your attack gains piercing.

ADVANCES

- Pierce the Screen: Your ranged attacks ignore the first point of armor from shields, chitin, or cover.
- No Escape: When a wounded enemy tries to flee, you always know which way it ran.
- Battle Reflexes: The first time each fight you would be surrounded, you may immediately reposition somewhere nearby.
- Queen of the Hunt: When you bring back proof of a kill, take +1 forward with people who fear that prey.
- Storm of Iron: When you deal damage with a thrown weapon, you may hit another nearby foe for 1 damage.
- Improved Stat: Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +2.
- Superior Stat (Requires: Improved Stat, at least one other advance): Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +3.

DRIVES

- Bring down a monster that others fear to face.
- Reach a vantage point no one else can hold.
- Prove your discipline under pressure.
- Take a worthy trophy from a dangerous kill.

Pick one.

KEEPER OF THE OLD WAYS

You learned the ancient pacts of fire, beast, and standing stone. When you invoke forgotten custom to calm spirits, villagers, or wild things, take advantage.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you mocked my rites before seeing them work?
- Which of you has shared a fire and an honest silence with me?
- Which of you carries iron, greed, or blight the land dislikes?
- Which of you have I warned not to cut what should remain living?

WOLF BROTHER

You run more easily with beasts than with crowds. When you track by scent, sign, or animal instinct, take +1 forward.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you was there when I ran on four legs through the night?
- Which of you earned the trust of my companions in fur or feather?
- Which of you panics when the wild gets too close?
- Which of you did I choose not to leave behind in the forest?

STORM CALLER

You have stood on a cliff and answered thunder with your own voice. When violent weather is already present, your elemental workings gain forceful.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you first saw lightning answer my anger?
- Which of you still flinches when my temper rises?
- Which of you believes storms follow me for a reason?
- Which of you asked me to bring ruin on your enemy?

LAST OF A CIRCLE

Your grove, cairn, or stone ring is gone. The first time each session you defend a natural place from corruption, desecration, or needless ruin, mark XP.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you knows the name of the place I failed to save?
- Which of you helped bury one of my circle?
- Which of you thinks grief drives me more than wisdom?
- Which of you has promised to help me restore what was lost?

SHAPESHIFT

When you call on the old wild and take the form of a known beast, roll +WIS. On a 10+, hold 3. On a 7-9, hold 2. Spend hold, 1 for 1, to make a move the beast would naturally make.

CYCLONE VOICE

When you command wind, rain, or thunder to hinder foes, roll +WIS. On a 10+, choose 2. On a 7-9, choose 1.

- They are thrown off balance.
- The weather covers an escape or advance.
- Something fragile or evil is battered apart.

WILD EMPATHY

When you calm, feed, or face an animal without force, it will not attack unless badly provoked.

SUMMON THE PACK

When you call nearby beasts, spirits of fang, or hunting birds for aid, tell the GM what you hope they do and roll +WIS. On a 10+, they come in useful numbers. On a 7-9, they come, but hungry, frightened, or demanding.

OAK-HEARTED

When you endure poison, cold, exhaustion, or harsh travel under open sky, take advantage.

FIRE OF THE FIRST MEN

When you kindle sacred flame against corruption, rot, or unnatural darkness, it counts as magical.

ADVANCES

- Dire Form: When you shapeshift into a predator, your attacks gain messy.
- Stone Circle: Given time, you can prepare a place where weather magic and spirit-speech come easier.
- Raven's Eye: When you send a bird or spirit to scout, ask one extra question after it returns.
- Storm-Walker: You and companions moving under natural weather leave less sign and make less noise.
- Rooted Against Evil: Demonic fear, illusion, and whispers have disadvantage against you.
- Improved Stat: Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +2.
- Superior Stat (Requires: Improved Stat, at least one other advance): Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +3.

DRIVES

- Defend the wild from corruption or exploitation.
- Let the beast, storm, or old magic off its leash.
- Demand respect for an ancient pact or custom.
- Hunt something unnatural across open land.

Clothing: grave wrappings and lacquered hides | desert black robes | practical leathers covered in fetishes

Signature: bone charms | a skull staff | the smell of herbs and tomb dust

Pick one.

PRIEST OF RATHMA

You were instructed to preserve the Balance, not comfort the living. When you name the cost of meddling with life and death, take +1 forward to make someone listen or reconsider.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you first mistook me for a grave-robber or cultist?
- Which of you believes the Balance is just an excuse for cruelty?
- Which of you has seen me show true reverence to the dead?
- Which of you has asked me to break my vows for someone they loved?

CORPSE-FIELD ADEPT

You know how battlefields keep talking long after the screams end. When you examine a place of slaughter, ask the GM what died here badly, what still lingers, or what the dead want done.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you stood with me among too many bodies?
- Which of you saw what followed me from that field?
- Which of you refused to let me question the dead you buried?
- Which of you do I suspect will leave an interesting corpse?

BONE CRAFTER

You shape remains into tools, wards, and servants. Given time and suitable remains, you may fashion a small bone charm, needle, key, or marker with a useful eerie purpose.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you carries one of my carved protections?
- Which of you wants me to make something from a fallen enemy?
- Which of you cannot bear the sound of my work?
- Which of you worries I will treat your body as material?

SPIRIT LISTENER

The dead confide in you. The first time each session you accept guidance from a ghost, omen, or ancestral murmur, mark XP.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you heard me speaking when no living person was there?
- Which of you thinks the voices are lying to us?
- Which of you has a dead relative who keeps hovering near me?
- Which of you have I warned about the shadow on your heels?

STARTING MOVES

RAISE THE DEAD

When you animate a fresh corpse or pile of bones to serve briefly, roll +WIS. On a 10+, it obeys simple commands until it is destroyed or dawn comes. On a 7-9, as above, but choose one: it is fragile, it is hungry for violence, or it draws unwelcome attention.

BONE SPEAR

When you tear a razor shaft of bone from earth, wall, or corpse and launch it, deal your damage at near.

GRAVE SIGHT

When you look upon a place, object, or person touched by death, ask the GM one: what died here, what death follows this, or what is being kept from rest?

CLAY AND BLOOD

When you use herbs, blood, or grave-dust to bind a wound, heal an ally 1d6 damage, but leave a visible occult sign of your work.

COMMAND THE STILLNESS

When you face mindless undead and speak with the authority of the grave, roll +WIS. On a 10+, they pause, part, or turn from you. On a 7-9, they hesitate, but one hungers for your life-force.

HARVEST ESSENCE

When something unnatural dies near you, ask the GM what trace of power it leaves and take +1 forward when using it.

ADVANCES

- Army of One Night: When you raise dead from a battlefield or crypt, you may animate one extra servant.
- Exploding Corpse: When you turn a corpse into a weapon, deal 1 damage to everyone close enough to be caught in the ruin.
- Bone Armor: Once per fight, conjure a cage of ribs and shards to gain +1 armor.
- Speak for the Dead: When you question a corpse, it must answer one question clearly before the grave calls it back.
- Cold Patience: You never need to roll to keep your nerve in a tomb, crypt, or charnel place.
- Improved Stat: Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +2.
- Superior Stat (Requires: Improved Stat, at least one other advance): Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +3.

DRIVES

- Preserve the Balance where others would break it.
- Learn something useful from the dead.
- Use fear, omen, or the grave to control a situation.
- Claim a corpse, relic, or burial place of significance.

BACKGROUND

Pick one.

KNIGHT OF THE ORDER

You were taught ceremony, rank, and the art of inspiring others. When you openly invoke your office to command respect, roll +CHA. On a 10+, they hesitate or obey unless they have much to lose. On a 7-9, they demand proof, sacrifice, or immediate action.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you has seen me at my most devout?
- Which of you do I suspect needs absolution?
- Which of you distrusts the church but not me?
- Which of you once stood between me and disgrace?

RELIC-BEARER

You carry a sanctified object of the old faith. Name it. When you present it against undead, demons, or profane sorcery, take +1 forward.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you knows what this relic cost my order?
- Which of you believes it is more dangerous than holy?
- Which of you touched it without permission?
- Which of you have I trusted to guard it once before?

TEMPLAR OF THE ROAD

You have marched from shrine to battlefield and back again. When the group makes camp in hostile ground, you may declare a defensible perimeter and ask the GM what threatens it first.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you kept watch beside me through a terrible night?
- Which of you have I already warned about corruption?
- Which of you thinks I am too rigid for what lies ahead?
- Which of you did I pull from the edge of death?

PENITENT CRUSADER

You fight because once you failed. The first time each session you place yourself in danger to protect another from the evil you fear most, mark XP.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you knows what failure I still cannot name?
- Which of you reminds me of someone I could not save?
- Which of you thinks I seek death more than redemption?
- Which of you has asked me for forgiveness I cannot yet give?

STARTING MOVES

HOLY SHIELD

When you raise shield and prayer together against a visible threat, roll +CON. On a 10+, choose 2. On a 7-9, choose 1.

- You or an ally behind you avoids the worst of it.
- The foe is checked, staggered, or driven back.
- Your shield blazes with holy light until the danger passes.

SMITE EVIL

When you strike a demon, undead thing, or servant of corruption in melee, your attack gains forceful.

AURA OF RESOLVE

When you speak a vow aloud in the face of terror, choose one ally who takes +1 forward to stand firm or press on.

LAY ON HANDS

When you press your hand to a living creature and pray for healing, roll +WIS. On a 10+, heal 1d8 damage or purge a lesser corruption. On a 7-9, as above, but you take the pain, exhaustion, or stain into yourself.

CONSECRATED GROUND

When you spend a few moments with salt, oil, ash, or prayer to bless a place, minor undead and lesser demons cannot cross it without first revealing themselves.

HAMMER OF CONVICTION

When you name a wicked deed your foe is guilty of before you attack, take +1 forward if the accusation is true.

ADVANCES

- Blinding Radiance: When you reveal holy light in darkness, nearby lesser horrors recoil.
- Unbroken Vow: When you hold a door, bridge, gate, or threshold alone, take +1 armor.
- Judgment: Once per session, ask the GM which foe here is most damned and why.
- Shield-Brother: When you defend the same ally twice in a fight, mark XP.
- Exorcist's Rite: You may treat possession, curses, and unclean influences as physical foes for the purpose of driving them out.
- Improved Stat: Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +2.
- Superior Stat (Requires: Improved Stat, at least one other advance): Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +3.

DRIVES

- Put yourself between evil and the helpless.
- Demand truth, confession, or repentance.
- Preserve a sacred place, relic, or vow.
- Face corruption without compromise.

BACKGROUND

Pick one.

VIZJEREI STUDENT

You were taught theory before survival. When you recall lore about arcane rituals, demonic pacts, or forbidden libraries, ask the GM what dangerous truth you know.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you has already seen one of my spells go wrong?
- Which of you did I question as if you were a specimen?
- Which of you thinks my order caused more ruin than wisdom?
- Which of you carries a mystery I cannot stop studying?

BATTLE ARCANIST

You learned to cast under pressure. When you unleash elemental power while under attack, you do not automatically expose yourself to immediate reprisal.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you saw me end a fight in one terrible burst?
- Which of you wants my power aimed at a personal enemy?
- Which of you knows how exhausted I look after real magic?
- Which of you do I trust to drag me clear if the spell takes too much?

KEEPER OF LOST FORMULAE

You possess pages no one else should have. When you study, bargain over, or decode arcane writing, take advantage.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you has read over my shoulder when you should not have?
- Which of you fears what might happen if I finish that research?
- Which of you helped me steal or save these pages?
- Which of you asked me to find a spell I should refuse?

STORM-TOUCHED

Magic answered you before any teacher did. The first time each session you choose reckless power over caution, mark XP.

When you introduce yourself to the other PCs, ask one or more of the following:

- Which of you saw the sign that marked me as dangerous?
- Which of you has felt static, heat, or frost crawl over your skin when I am angry?
- Which of you thinks I am only barely in control?
- Which of you still treats me like a person instead of a hazard?

STARTING MOVES

ELEMENTAL BOLT

Choose fire, lightning, or frost. When you hurl that element as a weapon, roll +INT. On a hit, deal your damage and choose one: near, forceful, or the target is momentarily hindered by flame, shock, or rime.

TELEPORT STEP

When you blink a short distance to a place you can clearly see, roll +INT. On a 10+, arrive exactly where you want. On a 7-9, arrive but choose one: leave something behind, draw attention, or suffer a magical backlash.

ARCANE WARD

When you shape raw power into protection, gain +1 armor until you cast destructively, move recklessly, or let the ward drop.

FROZEN MOMENT

When you encase a person, weapon, door, or small area in bitter frost, tell the GM what you are trying to halt and roll +INT. On a 10+, it is held fast for now. On a 7-9, it is slowed or brittle, but not fully stopped.

READ THE LEY

When you pause to sense the nearest source of magic, corruption, or planar strain, ask the GM where it is strongest and what it wants.

GLASS CANNON

When you accept disadvantage on a spell to make it terrifyingly obvious, add messy or forceful to its effects.

ADVANCES

- Chain Lightning: When your lightning strikes true, you may arc 1 damage to another nearby target.
- Fire Mastery: Your flames can illuminate, cauterize, or consume mundane barriers without a roll when the fiction allows.
- Ice Prison: When you freeze a foe in place, its armor counts as 1 lower until it breaks free.
- Arcane Recall: Once per session, produce a minor but useful magical effect you prepared earlier.
- Mana Hunger: When you draw from a dangerous source of power, ask the GM what corruption comes with it and take +1 forward anyway.
- Improved Stat: Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +2.
- Superior Stat (Requires: Improved Stat, at least one other advance): Increase one of your stats by +1, to a max of +3.

DRIVES

- Solve a problem with forbidden or spectacular magic.
- Learn the true nature of a supernatural threat.
- Push your power beyond safe limits.
- Keep magical knowledge out of the wrong hands.

Diablo 2

THROUGH CORRUPTED WILDERNESS

When the group travels through blighted forests, cursed deserts, frozen passes, or demon-haunted roads, roll +WIS. On a 10+, choose 2. On a 7-9, choose 1.

- You avoid the worst ambushes and dead ground.
- You find signs of safety, shelter, or old shrines.
- You spot corruption before it reaches for you.

SEARCH THE RUINS

When you take time to search a crypt, temple, battlefield, sewer, or shattered stronghold for something valuable or revealing, roll +INT. On a 10+, ask 2. On a 7-9, ask 1.

- What was hidden here on purpose?
- What here is still dangerous?
- What here points to the greater evil behind this place?

RESIST CORRUPTION

When a demonic relic, profane ritual, cursed place, or whispering evil offers power, safety, or temptation, roll +WIS. On a 10+, you refuse it and see one of its true intentions. On a 7-9, you refuse it, but choose one: take disadvantage forward, reveal a weakness, or carry a lingering mark of that contact.

TOWN UNDER SIEGE

When you try to organize frightened townsfolk while monsters press at the walls, roll +CHA. On a 10+, choose 3. On a 7-9, choose 2.

- The people hold together.
- You uncover a useful defender, route, or stockpile.
- Panic does not become betrayal.
- The town remembers who stood for it.

PURSUE THE PRIME EVIL

When you chase a powerful servant of darkness across regions, ask each player how they help keep the pursuit alive, then roll +CON from whoever bears the burden most directly. On a 10+, you close the distance. On a 7-9, you keep the trail, but choose one: you lose time, you lose supplies, or something else reaches the quarry first.
